

Subotica

City Break

ENGLISH

Welcome to Subotica, a city that was founded in the Middle Ages, when the people of Europe and the people of the Balkans crossed paths. Nowadays, Subotica is a city of culture, arts, sports and entertainment, a city whose main features depict blends of various cultures, relaxation and tolerance. There are but few who have visited Subotica and left feeling indifferent. The streets, the art nouveau architecture, the historical monuments, the hotels and the gastronomic offer, the rich selection of cultural events, the commercial offer, the entertainment option, lake Palić, lake Ludas, farms, horse farms and wineries in the surroundings - attract more and more guests. Moreover, if we were to add numerous events taking place during the course of a year, Subotica and its surroundings are definitely always interesting.

Welcome!

CITY HIGHLIGHTS

Certainly, you will be fascinated taking a walk downtown, overlooking the lavishly decorated buildings, streets and squares full of vitality, monuments and fountains. Take your time to enjoy each one of them, letting yourself to be seized by the breath of history.

The Buildings

The City Hall

is certainly the first building to draw your attention, given that it has presented the emblem of Subotica since 1912. The building was constructed in art nouveau style and it was decorated with the motives of the Hungarian folklore depict in the ornaments resembling variously stylised flowers and floral jewellery made of ceramics and wrought iron. The Ceremonial Hall represents the heart of the City Hall with its lavish stained glass. The observation deck represents an especially interesting feature, overlooking Subotica and its surroundings. Tours of the Town Hall and the observation deck are organised every day at noon. The visitors pass from the souvenir shop by the Grand Entrance.

The Raichle Palace

was built in 1904. Ferenc Raichle, the architect, designed it to be his home and studio. Precious materials, unusual combination of colours, playful form of the facade, interior and the garden, serve as an excellent example of the art nouveau architecture. The facade of the palace is full of architectural details that will surely catch your attention. Nowadays, this is the home of the Modern Art Gallery and it is open for visits from Tuesday to Saturday.

The City Museum

is located in the palace that was designed in the Darmstadt style of art nouveau in 1906. It has an archaeological, ethnological, historical, artistic and naturalist collection, as well as a collection of bequests. The doors of the museum stand open for everyone wishing to take a stroll through the region's history, every day from 10 am to 8pm except on Mondays and Sundays.

The National Theatre

has a very long tradition. The travelling theatre troupes have organised performances in Subotica since 1747 and the theatre building, depicted by the six Corinthian pillars, was set up well over 150 years ago. The reconstruction of one of the most interesting buildings in the centre of the town, is currently underway. The figure represents the future outlook of the building.

The Sokolski Dom and the Children' Theatre

decorate the final segment of the Korzo Street. The Sokolski Dom was intended for culture and sports and it represents an excellent example of interwar architecture, as it was officially opened in 1933. Aside from sports clubs, it is the home of the Children's Theatre that is being reconstructed, hence its performances are staged in the Club Mladost in Harambasic Street, and currently the Main Stage is also used by the National Theatre of Subotica.

The City Library

was built in the Neo-Baroque style in 1897 as the National Treasury. It is recognisable by the two Atlantes who carry one of the most beautiful balconies of the city on their backs. The central facade of this one-storey building faces Liberty Square, the Town Hall and the National Theatre. At present, the library has 280000 titles and as such, it is enlisted as one of the largest ones in the region.

The Synagogue

in Subotica was built in 1902, in art nouveau style, with ornate decorations based on Hungarian folk motives. It was designed by Marcell Komor and Dezso Jakab, architects from Budapest who also designed numerous other significant buildings in the city, including the City Hall. In 1974, the Synagogue was listed as a monument of culture and thus placed under official protection, until 1990 when it was listed as a cultural monument of great significance.

Aleksandar Lifka Arts Cinema

was founded in 2006 on the initiative of the City of Subotica, and it started its screenings in November the same year. It carries the name of Aleksandar Lifka who opened the first stationary cinema hall on 10 October 1910 at the Hungaria Hotel in Subotica. Nowadays, the cinema hall with 66 seats welcomes all film fans to its screenings.

The Streets

As you indulge in a stroll through the streets of the town, you will surely come across many smiling faces, well-natured looks and friendly residents of Subotica. Be sure to visit the Korzo Street, the Korvin Street, and also the Dimitrije Tucović Street, and let the ambiance of the town guide you as you indulge in the forthcoming energy.

The Squares and the Fountains

Walking along the town, two spectacular fountains will catch your eye. Both of them were built from the Zsolnay ceramic tiles and, as such, they blend in perfectly amongst the art nouveau style buildings that surround them. The Green Fountain was built in 1985, while the Blue Fountain was built in 2001. They represent the favourite resting place and a refreshing oasis during soggy summer days.

FOOD AND DRINKS

Should you come to Subotica guided by your desire to try out all the gastronomic specialities of the region, you have not mistaken. Well known for Prsnac (a cheese dish), Perkelt, stew, strudel with poppy seeds, donuts and other delicatessen, we guarantee pleasure for all the senses. The tastiest dishes are made according to the recipes that blend salty and sweet tastes, people and nationalities of the region, but also both the traditional and the contemporary cuisine. Undoubtedly, you will enjoy in the variety of the gastronomic offer, top quality dishes and wine, but also in the tamburitza orchestra that will play just the right tune for you with great pleasure. It is a question of your choice whether you will opt for local or international cuisine, as we recommend the following:

A NIGHT ON THE TOWN

Fun never seems to stop! If you have preserved a bit of energy for a night on the town following a day packed with activities, you will not regret. It is not important how old you are, what type of music you listen to, nor whether you are by yourself or with many friends. We have an option for everyone! Contemporary foreign and domestic music is played in the majority of the bars downtown, and if you prefer to go clubbing till dawn, we would recommend some of the clubs located in the very centre of the town. Should you be more in a mood for a quiet night out, having dinner with the sound of soft music of the tamburitza orchestra, you can relax every weekend in the pleasant atmosphere of the Majur Restaurant in Kelebija, or in the Majkin Grange in Palić.

SOUVENIRS

The crafty hands of the women in Subotica intertwine the past and the present, safeguarding the traditional techniques and ancient motives turning them into an artistic image, item, ornament, and souvenir. Authentic naive art using the straw technique is unique to Subotica and its region. Decorative items and paintings are made from straw. These amazing golden collages come about through the dance of light and shadows, revealing the countless shades of the straw's colour transferring the scent of earth, summer days, laughter and tears, within them. Moreover, there are also cornstalk figures, decorative items of homemade felt, embroidered hem, ceramics and pottery. Quality, precision and the joy of creation are what distinguish the souvenirs of Subotica, making them distinct and unique.

EVENTS

Events starting with the prefix ethno-, those dedicated to fostering the tradition of the local customs, folklore and crafts, raise the largest attention of both the local and of the foreign tourists. The event with the longest tradition in Subotica is naturally the Duzijanica Harvest Festival that will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 2011.

Subotica is also a town of festivals. The most important festivals are the Palić European Film Festival and the Festival of Children's Theatres in Subotica that gather a large number of artists and other guests from all around the world. Music festivals are also popular, foremost aimed at the younger audience, but there are also many cultural, sports- and entertainment related performances and other events. We invite you to visit our town during some of these festivals, to experience the atmosphere and to take home positive impressions of our town. You will enjoy your stay!
